Dear Colleague,

It is my sincere pleasure to inform you that Koç University has full scholarship opportunities available for outstanding Chinese students from your institution for the Spring 2020 (February) and Fall 2020 (September) intakes.

We are offering Chinese Master and PhD admitted candidates a 100% tuition scholarship, an attractive 1.325 USD monthly stipend and 500 USD housing allowance to pursue their passion for disciplines that include:

- Computer Sciences and Engineering
- Chemical and Biological Engineering
- Biomedical Sciences and Engineering
- Molecular Biology and Genetics
- Cellular and Molecular Medicine
- Neurosciences
- Physics
- Mathematics
- Chemistry
- Psychology
- History
- Sociology
- Economics
- International Relations

You can see the full list of our programs at kocuniversity.cn and follow us on Weibo or WeChat (kocuniversity)

As a young and research-intensive university, we can offer your graduating students high quality educational programs, faculty and research facilities that rival internationally renowned institutions. This is why in 2019 we welcomed our first cohort of 7 Chinese PhD students at Koç University with the Fung Graduate Fellowship.

Please feel free to circulate the enclosed leaflets and posters among potential candidates in your institution or to forward them to the relevant team responsible for advising students about graduate study opportunities abroad.

I deeply appreciate your cooperation in advance and look forward to welcoming outstanding scholarship beneficiaries from your institution in the future. Please also know we are always ready to help you raise the visibility of your institution amongst our Turkish and international students at Koç University.

Sincerely,

Melissa Abache
